Dances and Parties Feature Hallowe'en in Narberth

Juniors Hold a Party—Other Events Reported

The Hallowe'en Dance of the Tennis Club last Wednesday night was voted by all to be the best ever. The committee in charge of decorations, of which John Wine was seventh, did a job of decorating that reflects every credit on the active ones as well as the Club. The party was well attended, the music by Raith's Orchestra excellent, the costumes unique, and it is putting it mildly to say, "and a good time was had by all." From the many requests of members who wish to sponsor guests there is every indication that the dances this winter will be well attended.

The prize (a five-pound box of Wilbur's chocolates), donated by Mr. Wine, was awarded to Mrs. Jesse Harris for having the most attractive home-made costume.

All of the members are already looking forward to the Dinner Dance in November.

A pre-Hallowe'en party was indulged in last Saturday afternoon and evening by a group of Narberth folks at the beautiful Treddyrin Country Club, at Paoli. They motored out the Main Line in the early afternoon, in time to afford the men a round of golf, while their wives played bridge.

The spacious ball room of the club had been elaborately decorated with pumpkins lanterns, cats, witches and goblins of all sorts, which added a Hallowe'en touch to the whole affair.

An old-fashioned round table course dinner was served from seven to eight, for which thirty covers had been laid.

The evening was spent in group games, singing, dancing, and at cards. David Spratt, one of the guests, sang numerous solos, which were highly appreciated. The new game, "Mah Jongg," added much to the amusement. Refreshments during the evening consisted of sweet cider and doughnuts.

In the party were: Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Rawley, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. McConnell, members of the club; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Loughlin, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Gill, Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunne, Mr. and Mrs. George McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Walton M. Wentz, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Boileau, Jr., Mrs. Adalide Crater, and Mr. David Spratt, of Narberth; Mr. and Mrs. James Brinton, of Ardmore; Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Clifton, of Germantown; and Miss Mary Granley and Mr. W. P. Nocks, of Philadelphia.

By a pre-arranged plan, telegrams were delivered during the course of the dinner to Mr. and Mrs. Loughlin, and Mr. and Mrs. Brinton, extending the felicitations of the group of friends on the occasion of their thirteenth and eighth wedding anniversaries, respectively.

The Hallowe'en Elves danced twice this year in Narberth, the second occasion being the annual masked party given by the Community Club Juniors at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, November 1st.

About forty of Narberth's fairest daughters were on hand, although many of them successfully hid their charms under weird and wonderful attire. Cowboys danced with fairies, awkward country lads with maids statuesque in powdered ringlets and beauty patch, a French sailor tried desperately to attract the attention of a winsome lady Bee, a gallant wearer of aviation wings bowed low to a dashing Spanish dancer, and several oversized heads bobbed gaily from group to group. "Boob" McNutt and his sweetheart "Pearl" settled for the steeple time their wedding plans, while Harlequin, clown and unbonneted little girls wished them well.

The crowd was such a happy and colorful one that to mention all of the costumes, whether beautiful, unique or "funny," as they were shown to best advantage against the Hallowe'en decorations of black and gold, would consume more space than even our cheerful editor is want to assign us. We can only say that the judges showed excellent choice in awarding the costume prize to Miss Janette Gillis.

SHOP MOVES.

The Narberth Beauty Parlor has moved from the second floor of 211 Haverford avenue, and is now located in one of the three new stores on Essex avenue, around the corner from Haverford.

The business conducted by the Misses Gold has grown steadily, despite its out-of-the-way location, and with its new store, should be in a still better position to serve Narberth people.

Legion to Attend Armistice Service

Invited to Service at the Presbyterian Church

Dr. Van Ness has extended an invitation to the members of the Harold D. Speakman Post to attend Memorial Services at the Presbyterian Church Sunday, November 11th, to mark the fifth anniversary of the Armistice. Commander Pretz in a statement recently given out has asked all ex-service men to be present. Uniforms will not be worn.

The Post, as you already know, is planning to mark Armistice Day by staging their Annual Banquet at Elm Hall the following night. Sleuths are on the trail of prominent speakers who are able to talk about something other than the most solemn subjects. Others are on the job as Mess Officers and will arrange a good dinner. To a chosen few falls the task of getting all you fellows to show up and bring guests. You know, it's going to be open to all members of the sterner sex (men), and the Post is looking forward to a good turn-out.

Harry Simpson, when last seen, wore a harassed look and was trying to muster in his various committees. He carries a list of them in his notebook and has to take a glance from time to time to see just what his manifold duties are.

Early reservations for the dinner are imperative. This is really good dope because we expect to have a record attendance. Spellbinders are soon to be turned loose on the membership to sign up in advance. It is hoped that you will give to these men a few of your valuable moments in which to explain not only the purpose and scope of the dinner, but also the plans of the local Post for the year.

While it is not our purpose to give you all the dope on the dinner, it might be well to remark that Commander Pretz has not only promised to curtail his speech, but has retained a talented quartet to do their stuff that evening. Doc Howard has promised to grace the occasion with his presence on condition that he be not requested to speak. His vocal efforts at the baseball dinner have necessitated a complete rest from oratorical labors.

Remember, the affair is to be held at seven-thirty Pip-Emma, November twelfth, Elm Hall.

DIAMONDS AND HEARTS.

Among the outstanding events of next week is the play to be given at Elm Hall next Friday night. "Diamonds and Hearts," a comedy-drama in three acts, will be presented by the Standard Bearer's Society of the Methodist Church, directed by Mrs. F. R. Abbott and Rev. A. S. Walls.

The program is a comprehensive one, and a glance at the cast of characters will show a list of stars which will insure the success of the entertainment. Between the acts solos will be rendered by Dorothy Abbott, youthful luminary of the radio world, and Elizabeth Walls.

Tickets are on sale by members of the Society at fifty cents each, and a crowd which will tax the capacity of Narberth's famous entertainment hall is expected.

The cast and program are: Bernice Halstead, a young lady with an affection of the heart,

Miss Grace Woolcocks Amy Halstead, her sister, two years younger.....Miss Fern Reger Inez Gray, a young lady visitor,

Miss Eleanor Pittipoldi Sammy, the darky bell boy in the Halstead's home....Robert Foote Dr. Burton, a young physician,

Borough Assessor is Claimed by Death

Carden Warner Long a Prominent Citizen

The community was greatly shocked to learn of the death, on Tuesday, October 30th, of Carden Warner, Assessor of the Borough of Narberth and prominent in local affairs for many years.

Mr. Warner, who was 63 years of age, had been ill but a few days, the cause of death being pneumonia. The funeral was held on Thursday and interment was made at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Carden F. Warner, M. D., of Washington, D. C., and Fred Warner, Narberth architect. Two brothers are also living, Fred Warner, of Philadelphia, and Samuel Warner, of New York.

Carden Warner, who was born in Philadelphia, was one of Narberth's earliest residents. He moved to the community 32 years ago, in the fall of 1891, before Narberth became a borough.

During the early years of his residence he was closely identified with many projects of community interest, serving with the various associations and groups formed to lift Narberth out of its old situation as the neglected area of Lower Merion Township. During most of the life of the Borough, Mr. Warner served as Assessor, which position he held at his death.

Among the many positions and duties he assumed during his residence, his office as Treasurer of the Narberth Fire Company has been of great importance, and the care with which the position has been filled for many years has done much in aiding the growth of the company. He was also a member of the Board of Health and a Director of the Narberth Building and Loan Association.

In addition to being known as a public-spirited and progressive citizen, Mr. Warner was tireless in his duties as a father, and gave his two sons a splendid education. Carden F. Warner attended Haverford School and Hahnemann Medical School. Later he studied medicine at Vienna. He is now a successful physician in Washington, D. C. Like his father, Carden F. Warner was greatly interested in Narberth affairs when he lived here. He was editor of the "Citizen," an early forerunner of "Our Town," and in 1905 published a history of the community in the early days, called "Narberth's Historical Prelude."

His other son, Fred Warner, is a graduate of Haverford School and of the University of Pennsylvania School of Architecture. He is a member of the firm of Wallace & Warner, and has designed many of Narberth's fine homes.

At the regular meeting of the Narberth Fire Company on Tuesday night the following resolution was passed:

Whereas, Our community has been inexpressibly shocked by the sudden removal by death of our fellow-member and associate, Carden Warner; and

Whereas, During a long and useful lifetime he has been a sincere and conscientious worker for and in behalf of the Narberth Fire Company, having served long and faithfully as its Treasurer and in other capacities; and

Whereas, By his daily life and practices he has set an example for his fellow-citizens in Christian charity, good citizenship and works for the public weal. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Narberth Fire Company, in regular meeting duly assembled, do record its heartfelt regrets of the death of Carden Warner, its Treasurer; its sincere appreciation of his services to and for it during his lifetime; its acknowledgment of the value of his example as a citizen, a neighbor, and a member, and its profound sympathy with his family in their bereavement.

FRANK D. CAMPBELL.

Frank D. Campbell, after a two-months illness, passed through the portals of death to the life beyond early Thursday morning, leaving, besides his faithful wife, his beloved mother, who for the past several years has made her home with him. He will be remembered by his friends as the faithful Secretary of the Narberth Presbyterian Bible School, which office he held during the past ten years. Services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at his late home, No. 4 Stuart avenue, conducted by Mr. Van Ness.

Mr. Campbell was a kindly and genial spirit, and as such will be remembered by a wide circle of friends.

Fall Election to be Held Tuesday

Fifteen County Offices to be Filled

The general election will be held next Tuesday, November 6th. The polls will be open from 7.00 A. M. until 7.00 P. M., at Elm Hall, Forest avenue.

Fifteen county offices are to be filled at the general election. The Republican ticket at this election is, with one exception, that slated by Charles Johnson, County Leader. At the Primaries an opposition ticket was presented to that of the regular organization by a committee headed by Senator Fletcher W. Stites, of Narberth. In a bitter and rather close campaign, the "outs" nominated a candidate for Sheriff, William H. Fox, and one for Director of the Poor, Mrs. Euphemia C. Dunn.

The defeated candidate of the regular organization was Benjamin F. Shaw, of Cynwyd. Mr. Shaw polled a large vote from his friends in this section, but was beaten by the large vote in other parts of the county. Judge J. Ambler Williams was unopposed for reelection, and Herbert H. Metz appears on both tickets for County Surveyor.

The candidates to be voted on for local offices are as follows: Borough Council—Republican, A. P. Redifer, W. J. Henderson, E. C. Griswold; Democratic, James R. Cole, Joseph F. McGarrity, Charles L. ARMISTICE DAY AND THE LEGION

In our present day lives, history has made Armistice Day the most significant of all times, since it marks the time when hostilities ended in a war in which all of the greatest powers of the world were involved.

It has been rightfully called our country's second Independence Day, since the spirit which prompted our leaders to take a part to preserve the independence that this country now enjoys as well as that enjoyed by our Allies. Never before, and probably never again will so many people of the world collectively offer up thanksgiving at one time as they did when the news reached the world that peace had been restored.

Since this day is to mark such a time as this, the duty in a great part falls to the American Legion to preserve those memories and incidents of the World War, and lest we forget, to pay homage to our buddies who gave their all to make right the master of might, and to make all the world a better place to live in.

Monday evening, November 12th, has been the time set when the local organization of war veterans, the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 386, the American Legion, will celebrate this event. A banquet will be spread at 6.30 P. M., when the Legion will have as its guests many of Narberth's prominent citizens as well as other prominent speakers.

In order to give every public-spirited citizen an opportunity to be present, and to celebrate with us, the invitation is general to all male citizens. The small charge that will be made to cover expenses will, we are sure, be repaid to you in the abundance of notable speakers and entertainment that we will have for you at this time.

Never before has the opportunity presented itself when all male citizens of Narberth could join together at one time and celebrate for a common cause—Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.

Reservations can be made at Howard's drug store, at Bergner's hardware store or through any Legion member.

PLEASING.

Look through the Lower Merion High School Notes this week. Note the number of Narberth pupils who are actively engaged in student activities. It is most gratifying to see the way in which pupils transferred from Narberth High School have fitted in the new environment.

Several weeks ago we published an article which showed the excellent preparation of the Narberth Schools, as evidenced by the standing of Narberth pupils at Lower Merion. One anti-School Board citizen took violent exception to any article which stood up for Narberth educational methods, and said that the facts we presented were "all bunk." He was invited to gather facts to the contrary from the pupils, but so far they have failed to materialize.

And now, added to the encouraging report from the teachers, comes the realization that our students are equal to their new friends in other activities. Local pride is a fine thing, and our residents may well be proud of the 78 young people who are representing our Borough at Ardmore.

Community Club

The Woman's Community Club of Narberth is enthusiastically planning for the coming season, as a glance at the calendar of coming events will testify. Mrs. A. B. Ross, its President, opened the first regular meeting last Tuesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. by introducing the new Chairmen associated with her on the Executive Board.

The Narberth Club was one of the four hundred and fifty-nine represented at the recent State Convention at Erie, and Mrs. L. C. Douglass gave a most interesting report of her visit there as the local club's delegate. The convention's programs as a whole, Mrs. Douglass said, were educational rather than cultural, the one theme through all the meetings being "The Child in Our Midst" and Child Welfare. She closed her talk with a plea to all members to subscribe to the Federation year book and to "The Messenger."

The devastation in Europe, both physically and morally, as a result of the late World War, was described by Mrs. W. J. Hull, who attended the recent International Conference for Permanent Peace in London. She urged that all mankind should not adopt the course of dwelling upon the past, but to make an heroic effort to put hatred and pessimism behind and to build for the future. "All countries are still preparing for war," said Mrs. Hull. "The United States alone making preparations for a conflict that would tax her to the utmost, both in man power and in resources." She made an emphatic appeal in favor of the "World Court," whose object and functions she described very clearly, citing a number of the very grave questions which it has decided. She closed with a plea to all women to join in the campaign for this Court and asked them to appeal to their State Representatives to vote in favor of the United States entering it, quoting Lloyd George as saying, "If we do not destroy war, war will destroy us."

Mrs. Sibley, President of the Board of Directors, gave a report of the moving picture benefit held last Monday evening in Ardmore. She also spoke of the children's dancing class conducted by the Club. An invitation was given to all mothers to attend these Saturday morning classes and to see the benefit the children derive from it.

MOVIE BENEFIT A SUCCESS.

A capacity house witnessed both performances of "Salome Jane," the moving picture benefit for the Women's Community Club at the Ardmore Theatre on Monday night.

The charming dancers set this affair apart from the usual cut-and-dried "movie" benefit, and could rightly be called the stellar attraction. These youthful artists of Terpsichore danced with nimble feet before an appreciative audience, and the song rendered by the tiny prima donna surely scored a hit.

The feature picture itself contained plenty of thrills and added to the uniform attractiveness of the program as a whole. Mrs. Sibley and Mrs. Alexander, who worked to put this affair over, well deserve a vote of thanks for such a markedly successful evening.

ANOTHER ROMANCE BLASTED

Little Miss Gwendolyn was discoursing affably with the rich widower who was quite interested in her mother.

"If I send you a doll," said Mr. Richardson, "should it have golden hair like yours?"
Gwendolyn—"Oh, no! the next doll I get must have hair like mamma's—to take off and put on."

Talks on Zoning

An illustrated lecture on zoning will feature the meeting of the Narberth League of Women Voters next Monday afternoon. The meeting, which will be held at 2.45 in the Y. M. C. A. building, will be addressed by Mr. Joseph Wagner, Assistant Director of Public Works of Philadelphia.

The subject of zoning is of constant interest to the people of Narberth, as there has been frequent agitation in favor of a protective ordinance which will prevent the spread of stores and other objectionable features to residential areas. The Narberth Civic Association last winter agitated in favor of such a law, but Council stated that they could not act on it because of the lack of a State law permitting such legislation.

The League has now been informed, though, that the last Legislature passed a very comprehensive bill, enabling boroughs and townships of the first class to enact protective zoning laws. The discussion next Monday, therefore, will be most timely, and the information which will be obtained in regard to the subject will be a basis for a probable re-opening of a campaign for a zoning ordinance this winter.

"Be Sure to Vote" is the slogan of the local League in its effort to carry out the National League's ambition for a 75 per cent. women's votes on election day.

Do you know what offices are to be filled on election day? Have you studied the list of candidates and made a careful selection of those for whom you are going to vote?

Are you or are you not going to vote for the Constitutional Amendments and the $50,000,000 bond issue? If so, why? Do you know?

Information covering these various points will be available at the League's meeting on Monday, November 5, at 2.45 P. M., in the Y. M. C. A. Sample ballots will be there for your inspection.

This is an open meeting to all women. Come and bring your friends and neighbors.

State Convention.

The members are reminded of the State Convention of the League to be held in Philadelphia from November 14 to 17.

A table has been reserved by your local chairman for the banquet on Wednesday evening, November 14. Please make your reservations to her promptly.

WM. D. SMEDLEY HONORED.

A Business Men's Bible Class was recently organized in the Baptist Church which adopted the name Smedley Sunday Association, in honor of Mr. William D. Smedley. The organization, already has thirty members, which they expect to increase to fifty by the end of the year. The class meets Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock in Mr. Smedley's office pending completion of the new Baptist Church building. Mr. Charlton G. Standford is the teacher; J. Henry Knapp, Jr., President; William Durbin, Vice-President; Horton Williamson, Treasurer, and George W. Michener, Secretary. The Class is making a special drive for the younger business men of the community, but welcomes any man not identified with any other Sunday School. The Class is conducted along unusual lines and is proving vitally interesting. An energetic membership contest is under way at the present time, as many of the men of the community have recently learned at first hand.

In addition to the Sunday meetings, a business and social meeting is held once a month, the next of which will be Monday evening, November 5th, at the home of P. B. Graves, 104 Hampden avenue. The Smedley Sunday Association intends to take a very active interest in the affairs of the community, particularly in promoting closer co-operation between all the churches.

ACADEMY CONCERT

The Clara Yocum Joyce Memorial Concert which takes place Saturday, November 10th, at 8.15 P. M., in the Foyer of the Academy of Music, gives promise of a delightful musical evening. The artists who are co-operating to make this Concert a success are:

Bertrand Austin, cellist; Dorothy Johnstone Baseler, harpist; Mildred Faas, soprano; Florence L. Haenel, violinist; Ellis Clark Hammann, pianist; Ray Daniels Jones, accompanist; Abbie Keely, soprano; Marie S. Langston-List, contralto; Virginia B. Orr, contralto; George Pownall Orr, basso; Noah H. Swayne 2d, basso, and Henry Gordon Thunder, accompanist. Such an array of artistic talent assures a brilliant program and an evening of unusual distinction.

The "Arcadia Restaurant" has opened its doors on Haverford avenue. I won't be able to get these shoes on until I've worn them a few times.

NIAGARA

And awestruck at its power,
I marvelled at the water's urge;
Its many colored tower,
As it glistened in the sun's warm light;Like some majestic curtain,
Weaved in immortal shades so bright;
Their hue, like life, uncertain.
Deep down the fearful torrent poured,
And the mist, like gentle rain,
The swift descent its way ignored;
Ascended to the brink again,
That awful brink where it seemed to pauseBefore the fearsome fall;
Like a last stand in a long lost cause
Ere the final trumpet's call.
The rocks below in their towering might
Laughed at the water's rage,
And hurled it on to quiet flight,
Till it entered the whirlpool's age;While just beyond the rainbow played,
As it does when a storm is o'er
While "Maid of the Mist" at anchor stayed,
Secure from the tempest's roar.
Then passing swift on went the flow
Through wild and deep cut gorge,
To be fashioned in rapids on below
At the whirlpool's mighty forge.Here lashed with a fury that's untold.
Like some War God's of ancient days,
Whose wrath was poured on a restful fold
Of a land of peaceful ways.
The mad snow caps were lifted up,
As if by an unseen hand.
Then tossed about in a giant cup,
Like sentinels to stand,
Guarding the pass from mortal touch:
Unchallenged, the right of way;
For none may dare the whirlpool's clutchAnd live to tell the day.
O'erhead a human craft took flight
To view the storm below;
Like some huge bird from fabled night.
It journeyed to and fro.
Along the shore a scenic car,
Close to the water's sweep,
Its perilous way pursued, to mar,
The plan that Nature'd keep.
In wild array the chasm stood,
Brown-walled, grim and still,
Impassable to all who would
Its height ascend at will.No birds there seemed to be who sang
In joyous multitude;
Only a fleeting echo rang.
In that great solitude,
As if some lost soul seemed to be
In torment at the gate,
Who sought to enter Eternity
Yet feared to learn their fate.And then I thought of peaceful ways
That man had turned the tide,
To carry burdens of the days
Throughout the countryside.
To kindle cheertime for the night
When darkness falls around;
To gather from the storm the light
That proves that God is found
In devious ways the wide world thru.If we but search and know,
That paths that lead to truth anew
Ofttimes through tempests go.
How like the cataract our life!
How like the surging wave!
In discontent and useless strife
We journey to the grave.
We pass the falls sometimes to say
Within the whirlpool's gates,
While just beyond, not far away,
The quiet river waits,
And reaches with a silent hand,
If we but take a hold
And follow, peacefully to stand,
With new born spirit bold.
Where waters calm will bear us on
To destiny's true shore,
And angel voices say, "Well done;
Abide forevermore."

Football Songs

The football songs for the Radnor game, a contest for which was held a short time ago, have been selected and were practiced last Thursday for the first time. There were fifteen of them all set to popular airs and songs.

The songs have been printed and copies have been distributed to all pupils. Following are the fifteen that were chosen along with the names of their composers: "Hail Lower Merion High," (to the tune of the Italian Hymn) by Loyal Y. Graham; "Victory Song," by J. Kilpatrick; "Lower Merion Marches Onward," "Football Song," by Pauline Zelley; "Bingo," "The Old Gray Mare," "Hold Your Own Lower Merion High (We'll Get Old Radnor Yet)" to the tune of Jingle Bells by Peg Percey; "Marching Thru Georgia," by Gertrude Downs; "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," "Lower Merion Will Shine Tonight," "Barney Google," by Gertrude Downs; "Radnor Beware," by Linda Jorgenson; "Yankee Doodle," "Carolina Mammy," by Betty Oliver, and "Wonderful One," by Charles Hawley.

"Barney Google," "Radnor Beware," "Carolina Mammy," and "Wonderful One," are the most popular ones of the fifteen.

Clubs Organize and Elect

A number of clubs, among them the Civics Club, the Welfare Committee, the Architects Club and the Art Club met last Wednesday to organize and elect officers for the year.

The Civics Club elected Fred Egmore president and Robert Dohard secretary-treasurer. Both these officers are Narberth students.

The Welfare Committee selected Erskine Westervelt president, and Jessie Farrel, treasurer-secretary. Miss Holland is faculty advisor.

The Architects' Club elected John Fleming president; Lloyd Dilworth vice president and Bob Shank secretary-treasurer. Mr. Frost is sponsor.

The Art Club chose Jeanne MacDonald president and Hastings Alexander, secretary-treasurer. Miss Bush is faculty representative.

Activities of the Clubs

The Welfare Committee discussed the practice of students in securing "hops" to and from school on automobiles and condemned it. As a result Principal Pennypacker announced at assembly this week that students who wished to continue this dangerous practice would have to bring signed permits from their parents to avoid difficulty with the school authorities.

The Art Club, due to the short time allotted it for its meetings, will be unable to do any actual art work. Its time will be devoted to lectures on art and a group study of various art works.

The Architects' Club will spend much of its time in visiting new buildings which are being erected in the district. Among one of the first to be visited will be the new Junior High School, which is next door to Lower Merion High.

Roosevelt Exercises

Exercises in observation of the anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt were held in the school last Friday. A number of oral compositions were given in the auditorium at assembly Friday morning as a result. Among them were a poem, "Theodore Roosevelt," by Lillian Lyons, which was read by Anne Barrett, of Bala; "Close Up the Ranks," by Edwin Brown, and an original poem, "Roosevelt," which was written by Sheeliah Foster and read by Elizabeth Webb. All but the first of these were by pupils from the English classes of Miss Kohler and Boyer.

Arbor Day Exercises

Friday last was Arbor Day. Appropriate exercises in observation were held in the assembly that morning, and the following oral compositions were given: "Arbor Day," written by William Lefora and read by Grace Huston; "What the Birds Do for Us," by Elton Wilbur; "National Forests," by Mary Katz; "Birds and the Farmer," by Clarence Davis; a number of poems by Betty McDow, and "Forests and Pathways," by Sylvia Harrison.

THE LIBRARY.

These short reviews are written to assist the Community Library readers when choosing books.

"Candles in the Wind," by Maud Diver, is a reprint. Some years ago Mrs. Diver wrote three books which gained great popularity. They were: "Captain Desmond, V. C.," "The Great Amulet" and "Candles in the Wind." The scenes of these three books are laid in India, and Mrs. Diver says that it is her desire to give a true picture of life and work on the Indian border. Woven into the book is a pretty love story.

"Rufus," by Grace S. Richmond, is a new novel. Mrs. Richmond needs no introduction. "Rufus" has already been asked for by many Library readers. It is now ready for distribution. This is a story of a Doctor who has become a nervous wreck. A distant relative, young and beautiful, sets herself the task of pulling him out of his despair. So why shouldn't they fall in love?

Carolyn Wells—now, you boys and girls, both big and little, here's another one for you to take home and thrill over. It is called "Wheels Within Wheels." Here is the big Howland house in Connecticut. Mr. Howland is found dead with no signs of foul play. In moving from one cemetery to another, the coffin of a daughter long dead, it is found that no body has ever lain upon the yellowed white satin. And then, on the morning of the father's tragic death, a girl appears, who claims to be the dead daughter. Do you want to read it? It's in the Library.

"The Lengthened Shadow," by William J. Locke, is a story similar to other Locke novels, in that it has a hero, kind, gentle and lovable, but it is different because it also portrays a villain, gay and charming, but very wicked. The half French and half English girl is left to the guardianship of these two different men. With each she must spend six months of each year. In England her time is spent in a quiet home atmosphere; while the guardian who lives in France takes her to bull fights, the gaming table and brilliant social functions. Both men fall in love with her, and the book keeps you guessing till the very end.

G. Stanley Hall, former President of Clark University, and now in his seventy-seventh year, has written his autobiography called "Life and Confessions of a Psychologist." In this interesting volume Dr. Hall tells of his early life on a New England farm and of his studies both here and abroad. The chapters deal with psychology and education and tell of his friendships with many famous men.

"Fancies Versus Facts," by G. K. Chesterton, is a book of essays by the famous English author of "What I Saw in America." There are plenty of subjects to pick from; an essay on Prohibition, one on a child calling his father an "old bean," one on Arnold Bennett and one on the "Sentimentalism of Divorce."

GARDEN HINTS

This is the time of the year to make changes in your garden. Flower plots and borders should be laid out now, trees and some perennials should be planted, paths should be built.

Instead of engaging in the popular pastime of burning leaves, it might be a good idea to dig a pit for them, add a little lime, pile some manure and earth on top, rake them over occasionally and when you want it you will have an inexpensive and very efficient fertilizer. This leaf mould is extremely good for potting soil after it has been aged a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haist are spending the week in New York City.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW CHORAL DIRECTOR EXPECTED.

Important Meeting to Be Held Monday.

At the regular meeting of the Choral Society Monday evening, November 5th, it is probable that a new Director to succeed Mr. Clarence E. Nice will be chosen. The meeting will be important for other reasons as well, as the Directors have been perfecting the plans for the coming season which will be submitted for discussion and approval.

The revival of interest in the affairs of the Choral which has been evident with the approach of the season has been most encouraging to the Directors and officers, and a large attendance of active, sustaining and associate members is expected at the meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

In line with previous announcements social features are being introduced in the Choral meetings, and "eats" will be provided under the direction of Mrs. Trotter and Mrs. Compton. An especial invitation to this meeting is extended to all the music lovers among the new comers to Narberth. Just come and introduce yourselves into a new and interesting circle of friends.

In acknowledging his election to an Honorary Vice-Presidency in the Society, as previously announced, Professor Nice expressed his regret that the amount and character of his work made it necessary for him to withdraw the offer made during the summer to conduct the Choral again, and extended his best wishes for a successful season, which he said he felt certain was assured.

ALUMNI GAME

A football game which promises to be of great interest to residents of the Township will be staged on December 1st, when the Lower Merion High School Alumni will meet the brilliant undergraduate team. The proceeds of this game will go to the Memorial Scholarship Fund, which the Alumni Association is raising as a tribute to the men of the High School who lost their lives in the war.

Many men who played on the High School team are now making good in college, and these men have expressed their desire to come and help in the game, so the people will be given an exhibition of good football, because all the men will be in first-class condition.

In the backfield there will be Lester Haws, Dartmouth, Meyers, Brown, Morgan of Haverford School, and Mitchell, of Penn. In the line, Boozie, Lafayette, Wilson and Ryan of Penn State, Wallace, Dartmouth, Tily and Ruddick Swarthmore, and Miller, of Haverford. Other Lower Merion men who are still in first-class condition to play, such as Dick Connoley, Leo Roundtree and Frank McGrady, will be sure to play and from all appearances the Champion High School team will have to go at top speed to beat this combination.

The admission is to be $.25, as it has been to the regular High School games.

Additional information will appear in this paper each week until the game is played.

sisting of two acts and twelve scenes was hilariously applauded by the crowd. Several timely "skits" won special favor. We mention particularly the Dempsey-Firpo fight as enacted by the Misses Marion and Ruth Haws in the roles of "Knock-Em-Cold" and "Knock-Em-Stiff" respectively. The bout was staged with all the appurtenances of the "twenty-dollars-a-seat-try-and-get-in" affairs. "Gus" With-crow and "Teen" Mueller fanned the two combatants back to consciousness between rounds, and "Pig" Eckbert officiated. Four rounds of fiercest battling ensued while the blood-thirsty multitude roared its approval, a double knockout ending the fight in the fifth. "Would never do to let one sister beat another—think of the resultant strain on the Haws family!

"Peppy" music was furnished by a pianist who had the latest "jazz" at his finger tips, Mr. Donald Laird ably officiating at "traps."

Delicious sandwiches, pretzels and home-made cakes were accompanied by spicy cider and the omnipresent Hallowe'en nuts, apples and candy vanished rapidly.

A tired but happy crowd voted it "the best time ever," the only regret being the absence of our President, Mrs. Dorothy Vernon Smith, whose illness still prevents her attendance. We hope to have her with us in the near future.

NUMBER OF
BELL TELEPHONES
IN PENNSYLVANIA
1919-1923Seventy-Six Thousand
New Telephones

That's the number of new Bell Telephones which are being added to the Bell System in Pennsylvania this year, making a total of 850,000.

ADDED is the word, for 76,000 is the net figure. To realize this net gain, we must install a total of 150,000 telephones, not including some fifty thousand moved from one address to another during the year.

And a further gain of 83,500 is expected in 1924.

Installing the telephone instrument, however, is the smallest part of the job.

To carry out our full $30,200,000 program this year means 52 large building operations, half a million miles of new wire, ten millions of dollars in new switchboards and Central Office equipment.

This is the most stupendous construction program ever undertaken in our telephone history.

It is our response to the demand of the people of Pennsylvania for more and more telephones.
